REST IN PEACE

McNally, Sr. Alicia 1947 – 2020

Sister Alicia was born on March 30, 1947 in Monaghan, Ireland, the youngest of seven children. She came to California to enter the Sisters of St. Louis on September 8, 1964. Between 1968 and 1980 Alicia taught elementary school at St. Anthony Claret, Anaheim; Nativity, El Monte; St. Louis of France, La Puente; and St. Joseph, Long Beach. For the next ten years she worked in Ministry to the Handicapped. This solidified her passion of being a voice for the voiceless, and her commitment to serve those most in need of help. She spent another twenty years working in Assisted Care at Marycrest

Manor Nursing Home. In 2014 Alicia responded to the need for help with the Assisted Care at Louisville Convent, where she continued to work up until about three weeks before her death.

Alicia was fondly known as “Speedy” – she was always active, running from one place to the next, except when she was working jigsaw puzzles! She was diagnosed with cancer on September 17. She was eager to start treatment and get through this illness, but God spared her the suffering and called her home on October 6. We are still reeling from the shock of how suddenly all has happened, and her dear family were not even aware of how seriously ill she was.

Alicia will be buried with her family in Ireland. May Alicia rest in peace and may all who mourn her loss be comforted and consoled.

Sr. Alicia's funeral was live-streamed at 11:00 am PDT, Friday, October 23, www.vimeo.com/stmel. Burial is in Ireland with her family. May she Rest in Peace.

FINANCIAL FOCUS

Ideas for Thanking Your Family

Article 8 – Nov. 16, 2020

It's almost Thanksgiving. And although 2020 may have been a difficult year for you, as it has been for many people, you can probably still find things for which you can be thankful – such as your family. How can you show your appreciation for your loved ones?

Here are a few suggestions:

- Invest in your children's future. If you have young children – or even grandchildren – one of the greatest gifts you can give them is the gift of education. You may want to consider contributing to a higher education funding vehicle.
- Be generous. Do you have older children, just starting out in life? If so, they could well use a financial gift to help pay off student loans, buy a car or even make a down payment on a home. You can give up to $15,000 per year, per recipient, without incurring gift taxes. Of course, you don't have to give cash – you might want to consider presenting your children with shares of stock in companies they like.
- Review your insurance coverage. If you weren't around, it would leave some gaping holes – financial and otherwise – in the lives of your family members. That's why it's essential you maintain adequate life insurance. Your employer might offer a group plan, but it may not be sufficient to meet your needs. There's no magic formula for determining the right amount of coverage, so you'll have to consider a variety of factors: your age, spouse's income, number of children and so on. Also, you may want to consider disability insurance – if you were unable to work for a while, it could cause a real problem for your family's finances.
- Preserve your financial independence. When your children are young, you take care of them. But you certainly don't want them to have to do the same for you – so it's essential you maintain your financial independence throughout your life. You can do this in at least a couple of ways. First, consider investing regularly in your 401(k), IRA and other retirement accounts. The greater your resources during your retirement years, the less you may ever need to count on your family. And second, you may want to protect yourself from the devastating costs of long-term care, such as an extended nursing home stay. A financial professional can suggest a strategy to help you cope with these expenses.
- Create an estate plan. To leave a legacy to your family, you don't have to be wealthy – but you do need a comprehensive estate plan. You'll have to think through a lot of questions, such as: Have I named beneficiaries for all my assets? How much do I want to leave to each person? Do I need to go beyond a simple will to establish an arrangement such as a living trust? For help in answering all these issues, you'll want to work with an attorney.

By making these moves, you can show your loved ones, in a tangible way, how much you value them – and that can help you keep the spirit of Thanksgiving alive all year long.

Two Irish cities named as the friendliest in Europe

More than 100,000 Condé Nast Traveller readers have voted these two cities in Ireland as the friendliest in Europe.

Andrea M. Meek

GETTY

Two cities in Ireland have ranked at the top of Europe's friendliest city list in this year's Condé Nast Traveller Reader Travel Awards.

More than 100,000 Condé Nast Traveller readers have voted Galway as the number one friendliest city in Europe, while Dublin was named number two.

"While Europe's best cities are often judged on their ancient history, intricate architecture, unrivaled art scenes or amazing restaurants, sometimes what makes a place so great are its people," said the travel magazine.

Tourism Officer Ruairí Lehman said Galway City Council saw the honor as a recognition of the city's people, especially those working in the hospitality industry.

"This gives a much-needed boost and recognition to our industry who have worked so hard these last few months to offer a world class service within the safety guidelines and restrictions in place.

"While it is a difficult time for the industry, we will be open again soon and look forward to offering our award-winning welcome to visitors again."

The 2020 Condé Nast Traveller Reader Awards also saw four hotels in Ireland recognized among the top 10 resorts in Europe.

While the awards took place during the COVID-19 lockdown, "readers voted for the places that they love and would return to."

Tourism Ireland CEO Niall Gibbons stated, "I am delighted to see that two of our cities feature in the prestigious Condé Nast Traveler Readers' Choice Awards 2020. It is another well-deserved accolade for Galway and Dublin.

"In what has been a devastating year for travel and tourism, this is some good news, reminding people everywhere that, when the time is right, the island of Ireland is a great choice for a holiday.

"Once this crisis is past and Ireland is open again to international visitors, we in Tourism Ireland will be ready to roll out an extensive recovery kick-start program and to play our part in delivering a sustainable recovery for the long-term future of our industry."

Here are Europe's 10 friendliest cities, according to Condé Nast Traveller readers:

1. Galway, Ireland
2. Dublin, Ireland
3. Valletta, Malta
4. Oporto, Portugal
5. Lisbon, Portugal
6. Bologna, Italy
7. Edinburgh, UK
8. Reykjavik, Iceland
9. Athens, Greece
10. Helsinki, Finland

WATCH: Trailer released for new Shane MacGowan biopic produced by Johnny Depp

"Crock of Gold - A Few Rounds with Shane MacGowan" blends archival footage with new animation for look at the life and career of the Pogues frontman.

The trailer for "Crock of Gold - A Few Rounds with Shane MacGowan," which is produced in part by Johnny Depp, has been released, and it looks like fans are in for a treat.

"God looked down on this little cottage in Ireland and said, 'that little boy there, he's the little boy that I'm going to use to save Irish music,'" Shane MacGowan, 62, says in the trailer which released on October 27.

The official synopsis for the forthcoming film reads: "Crock of Gold - A Few Rounds with Shane MacGowan deep dives into the life of the tortured Irish vocalist, best known as the lead singer and songwriter of the Pogues, who famously combined traditional Irish music with the visceral energy of punk rock.

"Featuring unseen archival footage from the band and MacGowan's family, as well as animation from legendary illustrator Ralph Steadman, Julien Temple's rollicking love letter spotlights the iconic frontman up to his 60th birthday celebration, where singers, movie stars and rock 'n' roll outlaws gather to celebrate the man and his legacy."

Speaking with Deadline, director Julien Temple explained he was keen to explore MacGowan's cultural identity as an Irish boy being raised in London. "It's been kind of written out of English school history, what happened between England and Ireland. So, it was interesting on that level," Temple said.

"I think of the films I've done as all joining up to be one big map of this post-war English cultural history, and certainly, the Irish-London-Shane MacGowan thing was a gap in that map. So maybe it was meant to be." The film, released via Magnolia Pictures, has been nominated for Best Music Documentary by the Critics' Choice Documentary Awards and already picked up the prestigious Special Jury Prize at the San Sebastián International Film Festival in Spain in September.

Johnny Depp, who produced the film alongside Julien Temple, Stephen Deuters, and Stephen Malit, said: "I've been very, very lucky to have a long, long history with Shane MacGowan.

"About 35 years ago when I first met Shane, he was exactly who he has always been and will always be."

Bono, Nick Cave, Bobby Gillespie, Elvis Costello, Gerry Adams, and President Michael D. Higgins are all featured in interviews in the film.

"Crock of Gold" will be released theatrically for one night only on December 1, and will be made available for streaming and on-demand on a number of outlets from December 4.

The friendship between Princess Diana and an Irish nun

How an Irish nun gave comfort to Princess Diana during her fraught marriage from 1992.

IrishCentral Staff

@IrishCentral

Aug 31, 2020

Letters and a Christmas card, which went to auction in 2017, revealed a previously undocumented friendship between the "People's Princess" and the nun from County Kildare.

Editor's note: On this day, August 31, 1997, Princess Diana was killed in a high-speed accident, in Paris.

Today we remember the Queen of Hearts links to a nun in County Laois.

The missives, dating from 1992, were sent from Kensington Palace by Princess Diana to Sister Teresa of the Little Sisters of the Assumption. At the time, the nun was based in the order's convent in Wrexham, North Wales. The Irish Times reported that the nun met the princess through a mutual friend, the mother of a palace butler.

In 1992 when the letters started, Princess Diana was the subject of intense scrutiny in the media as her marriage to Prince Charles started to break down. Late that year, newspapers published transcripts of taped, intimate conversations between Princess Diana and an alleged lover as well as private conversations between Prince Charles and Camilla Parker Bowles.

Mailing address is Post Office Box 901, La Canada, CA 91012 --Vol.124, NOVEMBER 2020

In December 1992, British prime minister John Major announced to the House of Commons in that the Prince and Princess of Wales were separating.

Following the death of Diana's father, the 8th Earl Spencer, in March 1992, Sr Teresa wrote to the princess expressing her sympathy. Princess Diana replied to "Dear Sister Teresa" with a typed letter expressing her gratitude and saying her father had been a "strong and positive force" in her life. She hand-signed the letter "with my love, from Diana."

In one handwritten letter dating November 1992, Princess Diana thanked Sr Teresa for her "prayers, support and, most importantly . . . care" for which she was "deeply touched." She goes on to express her "deepest admiration for the wonderful work" the nun was doing, which included visiting and tending to the needs of the poor and sick.

In December, the princess sent the Irish nun a Christmas card featuring a photograph of Princes William and Harry, which she hand-signed "with much love from Diana."

Princess Diana died five years later in a car crash in Paris on August 31, 1997. The correspondence was cosigned to Sheppard's Irish Auction House in Durrow, County Laois, in 2017.

Auctioneer Philip Sheppard said at the time that Sr. Teresa did not want to discuss her friendship with the princess. She had gifted her correspondence with the princess to a relative, also now elderly, who decided to sell the letters and card "because of concerns about what might happen to it long-term" and in the hope that it would be acquired by "either an archive or by a collector of Princess Diana memorabilia."

WHO DOES WHAT?

A man and his wife were having an argument about who Should brew the coffee each morning.

The wife said, 'You should do it because you get up first,
And then we don't have to wait as long to get our coffee.

The husband said, 'You are in charge of cooking around here and
You should do it, because that is your job, and I can just wait for my coffee.'

Wife replies, 'No, you should do it, and besides, it is in the Bible that the man should do the coffee.'

Husband replies, 'I can't believe that, show me.'

So, she fetched the Bible, and opened the New Testament and showed him at the top of several pages, that it indeed says

Back Home

If I had the power to turn back the clock,
Go back to that house at the end of the block
The house that was 'home' when I was a kid,
I know that I'd love it more now than I did.

If I could be back there at my mother's knee,
And hear once again all the things she told me,
I'd listen as I never listened before,
For she knew so well just what life had in store.

And all the advice that my dad used to give
His voice I'll remember as long as I live;
But it didn't seem really important then;
What I'd give to live it all over again.

And what I would give for the chance I once had
To do so much more for my mother and dad,
To give them more joy and a little less pain,
A little more sunshine - a little less rain.

But the years roll on and we cannot go back,
Whether we were born in a mansion or shack,
But we can start right now - in the hour that's here,
To do something more for the ones we hold dear.

And since time in its flight is travelling so fast,
Let's not spend it regretting that which is past,
But let's make tomorrow a happier day
By doing our 'good unto others' - today.
